

MP 1 A New Commandment

A new commandment I give to you,
is to love one another as I have loved you;
is to love one another as I have loved you.
By this shall all know you are my disciples:
if you have love one for another;
by this shall all know you are my disciples:
if you have love one for another.